of Pennsylvanians, headed by the Governor elect, Senator Cameron, ex-Congressman O'Neill, and others to the number of thirty had an interview to-day with the Pres dent in relation to the appointment of a Postmaster for Philadelphia. They urged the appointment of George Trueman, a merchant of that city for the place. The President listened attentively, but gave no definite response relative to the selection. A special says the President is inclined to appoint the clerk, and the delegation are mewhat excited in consequence.

Another Account. NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—A special to the Post from Washington says: A delegation of prominent politicians, headed by Senator Cameron and Gov. Hartranft waited upon the President this morning to ask the apointment of Trueman as Postmaster of Philadelphia. Mayor Stackley in behalf of the delegation presented the claims of True-man for the position, saying that he had been very effective in keeping the Republi-can party in Philadelphia together, which resulted in giving such a magnificent victory on the 5th of November.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 .- A delegation

on the 5th of November. The President said in reply that he had been committed to the policy of civil service reform, and that the Republican party, in its National platform had declared in its favor, and that whenever it was possible to secure a good appointment under the civil service rules, he felt it to be a public duty to make a selection accordingly. As a rule he would endeavor to reward efficiency on the part of subordinates in positions of public trust, but when it should appear that he could secure a better appointment by going outside of the civil service, then he should not hesitate to do so. In the present case Mr. Fairman, the Deputy Postmaster, was highly recommended in every way as qualified for the position, and it was not de nied that by his appointment the Government would secure a faithful and efficient officer. Under these circumstances, therefore, he felt he could not do otherwise than to promote Fairman to the place to be made vacant by the resignation of Gen. Bingham, but would take into considera-

Old Probs Finds out Winter Has Come

of the Signal Service.

How It Came and where It Came from No More Winters without Warning A Beautiful and Brilliant Discovery of the Signal office have just been rewarded by a beautiful and highly important meteor ogical discovery. On the coast of England from time immemorial the phenon of a great November atmospheric wave has been the speculation of scientists and sea-men, but Sir John Herschel and others have supposed it was peculiar and confined to England and Western Europe, which it reaches from the South Atlantic and over which it rells in long continued undulations from October to January, constituting an important element in the phenomenal character of the European winter.

On the 12th of November a similar atmospheric wave began to break over the shores of Oregon and British Columbia as shown by weather telegrams. By the evening of the 13th it had spread over vor of a tariff for revenue only, and invite all persons without regard to former political associations to unite Rocky Mountains. On Thursday the 14th nearly all of the Pacific States and Terriit descended upon Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas and the Indian Territory. On Friday morning it extended in unbroken mag nitude and magnificence from Oregon and Washington Territory eastward through the great trough or depression of the Rocky Mountain backbone in Idaho and Montana and stretched thence to the lower Missouri and lower Mississippi Valleys and over the western shores of the M xican

This discovery will enable meteorologists to anticipate by many days the approach of winter. As it advances from the Pacific coast eastward in the great current of westerly winds, it serves to clear up the old mystery of the American winter storms, showing that they originate in the Rocky Mountains, upon whose cold and loftiest summits in Nevada, Utah, Colorado and Southern Wyoming the vapor laden air of this wave, coming from over the warm Pacific, is now seen to be condensed in the overwhelming snows of the forty-first par-allel. As this vast aerial wave is probably like the English wave, continued in sucessive undulations for two or three months, it may assist in explaining the omparatively high temperature and light recipitation in the winter along Puget's ound and eastward.

tion of the kidneys and dropsy. Coul Mines Suspending. POTTSVILLE, PA., Nov. 15 .- The horse disease is becoming general throughout the coal regions, the shipment of coal by canal from Schuylkili having been suspended. Mules are affected by the disease. There being no shipments of coal by canal, it is feared several collieries will have to suspend work to-morrow.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 15 .- At no time since the prevalence of the horse malady has the matter seemed so serious as to day. The cold, blustering weather has made the loss of public conveyances more trying to citizens, many of whom are now compelled to walk to their distant homes in the suburbs and remote parts of the city. The embarrassments which trade is meeting are, howaway from the polls. Estate. The matter of laying out the burnt district upon a new plan is receiving the per-sonal attention of a large number of citizens and city officials. There are two district propositions, one of which will without doubt he eventually adopted. The first may be called the popular one and is this: The passage of a law at the special session of the Legislature authorizing the city to take possession of the whole territory, to obliterate all the present streets and property lines so far as necessary, and lay out the district upon entirely new lines with a system of wide, straight streets, and sell the land bordering on them to those who wish to occupy it with buildings for ousiness purposes.

The advantages of this are readily seen, but if it is done the whole present system of sewerage and paving must be overthrown and gas and water pipes, sidewalks, hy-drants and celiar walls, a majority of which are yet intact and very valuable, must be torn up and rendered almost worthless The cost would of course be enormous. The second plan is the conservative one This contemplates the widening, straightening and extending of the streets, perhaps the discontinuances of small portion

Notable Meeting of Ohio Liberals

Joint Address of the State Committees

Conciliating, Patriotic and Inspiring.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 15 .- A special con sultation meeting of the Democrats and Liberal Republicans of Ohio was held here to-day. The Liberals about forty in number, met separately and adopted resolutions declaring in their opinion it was desirable that a consolidation of all elements favoring the leading principles enunciated by the Cincinnati platform should be effected, and that until such consolidation is effected the Liberal organization should be maintained and perfected; that the next Liberal State Convention should declare squarely in fa-

them; recommending that which have thus far co-operated with the Liberal Republicans to abandon the old party name with a view to a more perfect mion under the name of Liberals; that as a party they are opposed to all special legis-lation or special privileges, believing that the equal rights of all should be the guiding principle on all ramifications of governnental affairs and under great care in seecting candidates for members of Constiutional Conventions.

This committee consisted of Senator Thurtion all that had been said in favor of Trueman, Gen. Thomas Ewing, Gen. Brinkerhoff and John G. Deshler. Senator Thurman on behalf of the committee reported

The prominent features of the election may be briefly stated: Ninety-five per cent. of the Democrats voted for Greeley; of the remaining five per cent, a compara-tively small number voted for Grant; the greater part of them did not vote at all.

The Democratic party in the beginning fortered it; it has maintained it ever since; it gave rise to the Liberal Republican element of to-day, and to it we must look for accessions in the future. What is needed of some streets and the general improvement of the present lines. This plan ough improvement as the first, necessitates far less of trouble in its accomplishment.

Some of our thin-skinned contemporaries are singing "cavy" already. Because Horace Greeley has been badly beaten they think the Democratic party has played out. Not a bit of it. The Democratic party will never play out until this government goes into a despotism, and then it will have to be squelched by the sword. Suppose Greeley is beat for President, how does that destroy the Democratic party? He is no Democrat, and never was-that is the reason he has been so shamefully beaten. Had he been a Democrat old Grant now would be making arrangements to leave the White House. Greeley is not as badly beaten as Van Buren was in 1840. Suppose the De-mocrats then had given up the ghost, the country would have been ruined But after that defeat long ago. they went to work and reorganized their forces, and in 1844 elected their candidate for President, defeating a statesman who had more brains and character than the whole Radical party of to-day. And the Democrats, if they will go at it in good earnest, can make history repeat itself in being dead. That's Radical clap-trap, and we hate to see those who claim to be Democrats, repeating it. Democracy will never die as long as treedom has an asylum or republican institutions have an advocate. When Democracy dies, free government t may be safely affirmed that the great is at a standstill that requires the use of will die also, and they will be buried in the same grave.
